CIGARS

Cohiba Siglo IV

Introduced in 1992 to commemorate the 500th anniversary of Columbus' arrival to the New World, this high-quality mid-sized cigar is a creamy, nutty smoke that's perfect for experimentalists and aficionados alike. Though milder than the Cohibas originally designed for Fidel Castro and high-ranking Cuban diplomats, cigars in the Siglo series remain statesmanlike in their immaculate construction and slow burning intensity. The Siglo IV is no exception.

Flavours: A full-bodied woody aroma is accompanied by a mild creamy sweetness that lasts until the end.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Corona Gorda (handmade)

Size: 143 x 18.26 mm

Ring : 46

Strength: Medium

£27.60

Hoyo de Monterrey Petit Robusto

The Petit Robusto is small but powerful puro that offers a complex, sweet and peppery smoke to compensate for its somewhat diminutive stature. Carrying the peerless Hoyo de Monterrey blend of tobacco leaves, tobacco growing region Vuelto Abajo since 1860, the Petit Robusto offers a short smoke that punches well above its weight to deliver long lasting flavour.

Flavours: A classic Peppery Cuban blast, followed by notes of cocoa and chocolate, which give way to a rich, almond finish.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Robusto (handmade)

Size: 102 x 19.84 mm

Ring : 50

Strength: Light to medium

£15.70

Montecristo No. 4

Montecristo, named after Alexandre Dumas' anti-hero Count, is the most popular brand of habanos in the world for good reason. Excellent construction and a masterful balance of power and flavour in the blend make Montecristo cigars consummate crowd pleasers, and a benchmark of quality against which all other cigars are judged. The Montecristo No.4 is quite simply the quintessential Monte. No wonder it's the best selling cigar in the world.

Flavours: Damp earth and woody notes dominate the smoke until the nub.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Petit Corona (Mareva) (handmade)

Size: 129 x 16.67 mm

Ring: 42

Strength: Medium to full

£13.60

The Montecristo Petit No. 2

Possessing all the taste and craftsmanship of its bigger brother the Petit No.2, is the perfect cigar for those wanting to enjoy the famous Montecristo flavour in less time. A popular edition to the brand's classic vitola range – numbered 1-5 – the Petit packs a powerful smoke into its Torpedo-like frame.

With an exceptional leaf blend and superb burn consistency owing to a smoothly tapered end and near veinless outer leaf, the Petit No. 2 is entry level Montecristo at its best.

Flavours: Rich wood and spice combine with toasted nuts to provide a creamy draw throughout.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Short Torpedo (handmade)

Size: 120 x 20.64 mm

Ring: 52

Strength: Medium

£20.20

Partagás Serie D No. 4

Produced by one of Havana's original cigar makers founded in 1845, the Serie D No. 4 is often regarded as one of the best robustos (short cigars under 5 1/2") in the world. Possessing the instantly recognisable deep, earthy flavours of the Partagás brand, this stocky habano has been a silent partner to the cigar-smoking Cuban cognoscenti for decades, and has seen more than its fair share of revolutionary action in the mouths of the country's founding fathers.

This is certainly not a cigar for the faint hearted.

Flavours: Starting with spicy notes, then settling into wood and cinnamon.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Robusto (handmade)

Size: 124 x 19.84 mm

Ring: 50

Strength: Medium to full

£19.50

The H. Upmann Half Corona

Though a relative newcomer (it was only released in 2011), the extravagantly titled H. Upmann Half Corona has quickly made a good name for itself within the industry and earned its place inside the thinking smoker's humidor for two reasons. One at just 3.5"-long it is the perfect counterbalance to the heavyweight habanos that make up the bulk of the market, and, two, it is now one of the cigars of choice for a relatively brisk yet flavoursome smoke that won't keep your hands tied for too long.

Flavours: Creamy with hints of coffee with hay, cocoa, and honey aromas.

Origin: Cuba

Format: Half Corona (handmade)

Size: 90 x 17 mm

Ring: 44

Strength: Medium

£12.70
